ROOSEVELT WINS 12 DELEGATES AND THE PRESIDENT 18

Threatening Missouri Contest Was Compromised

CHICAGO, June 14.—Twelve delegates for Colonel Roosevelt and eighteen for President Taft marked the day's gain of the two chief rivals for the Republican presidential nomination from the decision of the contest cases by the Republican National committee. In addition the committee settled the differences between rival Republican factions in two districts of North Carolina thus clearing the Colonel's title to votes from this section.

It was a day of Roosevelt victory, but victory achieved with the full acquiescence of the Taft majority in the National committee.

Missouri's contest, which threatened another battle between Taft and Roosevelt factions, in which the lines would be closely drawn were compromised so effectively that the committee was unanimous in giving Roosevelt eight and Taft six of the contested delegates for that state. The decisions today were:

For Taft.

Two each from the 2d, 3d, 4th, 6th, 7th and 8th Mississippi districts.
Two each from the 3d, 7th and 14th

In the Missouri districts.

Total, eighteen.

For Roosevelt.

Four delegates at large from Missouri.

Two each from the 1st and 5th Missouri districts.

Two each from the 3d and 9th North Carolina districts.

Total, twelve.

T. R. Leaves New York at 5:30 for the National Convention

He Will Take Personal Charge of His Fight

NEW YORK, June 14.—The sensation of the day was the announcement this noon from T. Roosevelt that he would leave for Chicago at 5.30 today to take personal charge of his campaign for the nomination.

Mr. Roosevelt has wired his Chicago managers to that effect. It is now understood to mean that he will appear in the convention hall.

SIX PERSONS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM WATERY GRAVE

Prompt Work of Foreman Wherren and Bridge Crew Save Life at Dover Point

That six people in the pleasure boat Katydid of Durham are alive today is due to the timely work of Frank Wherren, George Leach, David Fernald and Edward Coleman, carpenters employed on the Dover Point bridge of the Boston & Maine railroad.

The boat containing three men, two women and a young girl was sighted about 300 yards from the bridge by the carpenters. The engine had refused to work and the party much excited were drifting with the swift tide toward the bridge. Foreman Wherren of the crew took in the situation at a glance and knew that unless he acted quickly it meant a watery grave for the occupants of the craft. With the woman screaming with fright the boat was soon against the piling. The workmen were there ahead of them and with a rope which one of the party managed to get hold of, they kept the craft from swaying until another boat could reach them. Punched a hole in her side and dislodged as they were taken out the boat appeared below the surface coming up again nearly one foot from the bridge. The boat is said to belong to Fred P. Palmer of Durham.

WHO MEASURED THIS STREAM?

The Red Shirts are Astonishing Themselves at Brakes.

There was certainly some squinting and pumping on the handbrake Eureka the other evening according to all reports when a stream went down the line for 210 feet, 7 and one-eighth inches.

While this is record work many are asking who got down to the fine work of measurement. All big money will look alike to the vets this season and if it's going anywhere it's going to Portsmouth.

Mass Meeting of British Transport Workers, 300,000 of Whom Have Been Called on Strike.

Copyright by American Press Association.

Great Britain has been kept in a turmoil for the past year by labor revolts, but the present threatened strike of transport workers if successful will prove the most disastrous of all. The Transport Workers' federation, as their union is called, has 300,000 members, and a strike would tie up foreign and coastwise shipping. The question at issue is recognition of the union. The photograph was taken during a mass meeting of the men at Tower hill, London.

Music—"America."

The hearing before the Public Service commission in the matter of the petition of the Sullivan County railroad praying for an extension of its line from Cornish to Lebanon, has been continued to June 21, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the office of the commission.

A petition has been filed by the Concord & Montreal railroad asking for permission to build an extension of its line from Base station to the summit of Mount Washington, and to increase its capital stock not exceeding $1,500,000. The petition provides for the operation of the extension by electricity and the building of necessary appurtenances including hotel accommodations. A hearing will be held before the commission at its office in Concord on July 12 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

A petition has been received from the Seabrook & Hampton Beach Street Railway company asking for permission to carry freight and express matter for one year beginning with June 15, 1912. Upon this petition a hearing will be held at the office of the commission on July 12, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

A formal order has been issued approving the lease of the Suncook Valley Railroad to the Concord & Montreal railroad as modified by a vote of the stockholders of the Suncook Valley railroad passed at their meeting May 28, 1912, to conform to the views of the commission as expressed in its opinion filed on March 1.

LEGS DISORDER IN BOSTON

The strike on the Boston Elevated presents one feature of much interest to the community that is, the marked falling off of the acts of violence and disorder.

At first strikers and their followers abused and assaulted some of the men on the cars. Unthinkingly and irresponsibly youths joined in. Public authorities acted quickly with the hoodlums, severe jail sentences and the reformation of public opinion putting an end to their outbreaks.

APPEARED AT HEARING BEFORE DELEGATES

The hearing for the amendment to our State Constitution asking that the word "male" be erased from its pages, thus allowing women the privilege of voting, was held Wednesday night at Concord.

Mrs. Mary L. Wood, Miss Chase, Mrs. C. P. Bancroft, Mrs. Agnes Jenks, Rev. Mr. Ives, Mr. Pattee, and Dr. Anna Shaw, National President, all spoke eloquently and convincingly for the cause of Equal Suffrage.

It was announced that the Anti-Suffragists should have a hearing Thursday night, the final thirty minutes of which should be reserved for a rebuttal. Senator Taylor of Colorado will at that time speak for the Men's Equal Suffrage League.

Mr. Pattee is master of the State Grange and his announcement to the committee that the powerful organization which he represents has endorsed Equal Suffrage will carry great weight.

LADIES' NIGHT AT COUNTRY CLUB

There was a largely attended ladies' day at the Country Club on Thursday and it was a very delightful time.

During the afternoon there was cards at the club house and handsome favors were awarded.

Box lunch was in order at six o'clock, and the evening was given over to dancing and cards. Mrs. Morgan Dana and Mrs. Harry E. Philbrook were the ladies in charge of the arrangements.

BEAUTY IS CALLED HABIT

Judge Rules Woman's Clothes Assume Fixed Standard as Result of Expenditures Allowed Her.

New York.—Beauty as a habit may become the slogan of this year's June brides, if an opinion concurred in by a majority of the judges of the appellate division of the supreme court here receives general notice, since it is held that the character and quantity of clothing a married woman is in the habit of wearing fixes the standard which the husband must sustain should he for any reason have an attack of parsimony after the honeymoon.

The question arose in a suit brought by a tailor to recover a bill for $565 incurred by the wife of a New York merchant said to have an income of $4,500 a year. Testimony adduced at the trial showed that at the time the contested articles were bought the wife's wardrobe contained 30 dresses, and suits, a dozen hats, ninety pairs of silk stockings, three dozen pairs of gloves, two dozen pairs of shoes, ten pairs of silk equestrian lights and additional clothing sufficient to fill a number of trunks.

The justice who wrote the majority opinion of the court contended that the wardrobe was such as had been established as a habit by the wife, with her husband's knowledge, and that if the matter were laid before a jury the latter might so find. A nice point was raised in regard to the items of the $564 purchase, which included two coats and three additional suits, as to whether these were actual necessities.

Tailors testifying as experts declared that the extra clothing was an actual need, since the styles changed twice a year; and the suits could be worn only three or four months. Through a mere technicality the habit theory is left in doubt, since the court found in favor of the husband because the extra clothing was charged to the wife by the tailor, and not to the husband.

EXPLORING THE JUG HOLE

Attempt to Discover Reputed Source of Matlock Bath's Thermal Springs.

Matlock.—Another attempt to solve the secrets of the Jug Hole caves at Matlock is being made by a party of five, led by Mr. Goodall, the honorable secretary of the Naturalists' society. The secrets of the Jug Hole have never yet been solved, the theory being that its workings contain an inland lake, where may be discovered the source of the thermal mineral springs of Matlock Bath. A number of expert explorers have tried to reach the end of the Jug Hole's underground passages, but so far without success.

The present attempt is evidently of a more comprehensive character, for at the time of telegraphing the explorers are still underground.

CHAMPIONS ADD ANOTHER GAME TO THEIR LIST

Defeat Riversides on Errors--Fine Fielding and Fast Playing.

The P. A. C. took a game from the Riversides on Thursday evening, in the Sunset League schedule. The weather was so cold that the crowd of 1200 fans were nearly frozen when it was over, but they got warmed up during some of the innings. It was a good game and with any kind of support for Lombardi, who was on the slab for the Riversides, it would have been a very close game. The heavy hitting champions only got four hits off his delivery and three of these were in the fourth inning after there had been a chance to retire two men. He pitched a game good enough to win for the errors of his team were very costly.

Sperry Locke was in the box for the Champions and he was hit hard, but not safe, he only had one strike excusable as Fisher piled into him at first like a road roller. They landed five more in the fourth after two vanced on Pruett's sacrifice, Weare to Newick. Able was passed and Hutton was out on a long fly to G. Woods in center.

The Champions got one across. G. Woods was thrown out by Able, Mattison reached first on errors by Caswell and Able.

The Riversides scored in the fourth. Able singled and advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on Hutton's single and again in the fifth Plimpton scored on a wild throw to the plate by Newick.

The game in detail:

First Inning.

The Riversides were up and Caswell was thrown out by Mattison. Grant was hit and walked and Mattison was out on a fly to Able and Newick walked. He stole second and came home on Fisher's grounder to Caswell, which Paul had plenty of time but Fisher went into him and he dropped the ball. W. Woods was out Hutton to Paul.

Score--P. A. C., 1; Riversides, 0.
Second Inning.

The Riversides were out in order. Paul, Weare to Newick, Lombardi on a fly to W. Woods and Norman on a fly to G. Woods.

Karlson started by being hit and walked, Jewell singled advancing him to second, Locke was out on a fly to Able and Karlson was forced on third on Weare's grounder to Lombardi and G. Woods retired the side Lombardi to Paul.

Third Inning.

There was nothing doing for the Kittery boys. Plimpton put up a high foul that Fisher was under, Caswell was thrown out by Mattison and Grant followed by the same route.

For the Champions, Mattison was out on a fly to Grant, Newick was safe on Able's error, Fisher fanned and W. Woods fanned, Paul getting the out as Pruett dropped the ball.

Fourth Inning.

The Riversides tied the score in their half. Pruett was out to G. Woods, Able singled and went to second on a wild pitch, and scored on Hutton's single. Paul was thrown out at first by Locke and Lombardi by Mattison, who made a very pretty stop.

The Champions put the game away here. Karlson went to first on Caswell's error, and Jewell was safe on

When it went through Plimpton.

Able's error, Locke singled and the ball rolled through Plimpton's legs and two men scored and Locke was on second. Weare was forced at second on G. Woods grounder to Hutton, Mattison was passed and with two on

Drew Picked to Win the 100 Meter Event at Olympics

 DREW
PHOTOGRAPHED BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Boston, June 14.—Up until a few weeks ago it was figured that America would be weak in the hundred meter race at the Olympic games, but just now the reverse is the case, and Uncle Sam will be strongly represented in the event. Among those who will wear the stars and stripes are Alvah Meyer, Ira Courtney, Ralph Craig and Howard Drew. The latter is picked as the winner of the event. The manner in which he won from Craig at the tryouts in Cambridge last Saturday proved that he is one of the best sprinters developed in years. He won the hundred meter race in 10.45 seconds. Drew hails from the Springfield high school and has been running a little over a year. Picture shows Drew on right beating Craig at Cambridge.

Newick clouted out a two-base hit scoring Woods and Mattison. Newick was thrown out at third by Lombardi on Fisher's grounder and Will Woods fanned for the second time.

Score--P. A. C., 6; Riversides, 1.
Fifth Inning.

The Kittery team made an effort, but the lead was too great. Norman hunted and was thrown out by Fisher. Plimpton was passed and stole second and Caswell fanned. Grant was safe on Jewell's error and when he threw it to first Plimpton raced home and was safe on Newick's wild throw to the plate. Pruett singled and with two men on Able was out on a fly to W. Woods.

EXETER LETTER

At Masonic hall Wednesday evening the members of the Star-in-the-East lodge, A. F. and A. M., observed Past Masters' night, when the Master Mason degree was conferred by a team composed of the following past masters: Charles C. Russell, William H. Folsom, Frank H. Wadleigh, John Kimball, Joseph E. Knight, Charles H. Knight, Albion E. Hayes, Frederic A. Charles, William H. Nute, William H. Seaward and James Bell.

Selections were rendered by the Schubert quartet of Boston, and refreshments were served.

Flag exercises were rendered by the Woman's Relief corps at the Red Men's hall Tuesday evening, when the members of the Moses N. Collins post, of the G. A. R., and the George S. Cobb camp, Sons of Veterans, were invited. The program for the evening consisted of vocal solos by different members of the organization; readings by Sihill Gatchell, and address on "The Flag" by the Rev. George H. Driver, pastor of the First church.

The attendance was unusually large for such an occasion, and an interesting and enjoyable occasion resulted. The event was some previous to the regular flag day, which falls on Friday, but was the only opportune date for the meeting.

The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth Lilling, aged 41 years, were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the home on Hall place by the Rev. Herbert F. Quinby, pastor of the Methodist church. Mrs. Lilling was the wife of Thomas Lilling and had resided here for three years having previously lived in Newmarket. She was a native of England.

Petitions for the Grand Trunk railroad, coming into the state and also petitions for the Boston & Maine opposing the plan are being circulated in Exeter and vicinity. The Grand Trunk document was the first to be put before the public and at once found many signers. The Boston & Maine petition is also going the rounds thoroughly. The allegations of the Boston & Maine are that the tracks of the Boston & Maine system extend into all sections of New Hampshire and in some sections the traffic receipts can hardly be sufficient to pay operating expenses and any loss of revenue resulting from a division of traffic to a competing line owned by a foreign corporation which at best could only benefit a limited section, will be serious injury to the state as a whole. On the other hand the Grand Trunk alleges that it would benefit the shipper, the consumer and the general public. Judging from the signers of the petitions the Grand Trunk proposition has the call in this section, yet many stockholders are signing for the Boston & Maine.

District Deputy Beekford of Boston of the Royal Arcanum paid a visit to the Friendship council at the meeting held last evening.

R. A. Tyler was taken to the Carney hospital at Boston for treatment on a trouble which has been bothering

For PORTSMOUTH and PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS.

Friday, June 14, 1912.

Lillian Russell is married for the fourth time. Evidently she is not discouraged by her previous attempts to find a soul mate.

The Philadelphia Ledger says the colonel, no doubt, wishes at once to apply his "recall of decisions" to the national committee.

The Providence Journal says so far as known Wilbur Wright was the first aviator to die a natural death. How remarkable this is the almost daily record of fatal accidents to the birdmen shows.

The Philadelphia Press says there have been years when this town was more enthusiastic about base ball than it is now. But we should not despair; our local teams may yet do something to cheer us up.

Boston baseball fans have a right to be highly pleased at the work being done by the Boston Americans. It is to be hoped that the World series will be played at the Hub. There is no better base ball city and surroundings to draw from.

The New York Herald says it is verily a time of stress, this beautiful June, with the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo only a few days distant. Out in Chicago is Marshall Dixon, in charge of part of the third term candidate's destiny, declaring that if the third term isn't nominated nobody will be. Then we have Marshall William Flinn, of Pittsburg—honest and most excellent boss, asserting that he cares not who makes the temporary roll so long as the convention can tear it to pieces. Back and forth between Oyster Bay and Chicago like a carrier pigeon in flight we have the ever faithful Marshall Perkins, winging his way with messages of consolation for the third term candidate and messages of gold for the delegates.

The Boston Record says: Enforcement of the long-unenforced curfew law in Malden will be delicate business. The obvious wisdom in sending children off the streets by 9 p. m. is not to be disputed, but there is a considerable problem in doing it. To arrest youngsters found out after that hour would defeat the chief purpose of such a law, which is to prevent young boys and girls from growing up to become undesirable. The taint of even a technical arrest is not easily wiped out. Even an "escort" home by a police officer leaves its mark. There can be no constructive growth of youth without self respect; and that is a point to be kept in mind. Curfew laws have been useful simply in moral effect, and the hint they give, the attention of parents attracted by the nightly bell. Radical enforcement has always been found a risky proceeding.

It is announced that the Taft platform will denounce the initiative, referendum and all forms of recall. The (time honored republican principle) of the protective tariff as a guard to the wages of American working men, American farmers and American industries will be forcibly presented. The tariff plank will demand that customs duties be so adjusted as to cover the difference between the cost of production in this and in other countries. The financial plank will demand the creation of a national reserve association through amendment of the national banking laws; also provision of an elastic system of currency and credit, safeguarded against domination by any financial or sectional influence. The platform will demand the retention of the Sherman act, supplemented by further legislation which shall give certainty to the law controlling combinations and monopoly or by combination and that business success, honestly achieved, may not be converted into crime.

Bird's-Eye Views.

People who are nervous in a thunder storm should reflect that there is about as much danger as there is of being struck by presidential lightning.

The superlative degree is better and more emphatic where it is least used. People get tired of it even from the mouth of a presidential candidate.

The guinea pig has loomed up into notice because of the choice English that Colonel Roosevelt employs when he is speaking about people who criticize him.

These assertions in confident tones backed now and then by a wager, give the country the same sort of thrill that it experiences just before the pugilistic championship is about to be contested.

A panic in the oriental opium market may be another evidence of the awakening of China.

Atlanta merchants desire the establishment of the same rates for shipments from New York and Philadelphia as are charged for shipments from Baltimore. The question of rate making has become almost as complex as the tariff itself.

If any such general splitting up had occurred in years gone by, the prohibition ticket might have stood a better show.

And in four years the same sort of patriotic mix-up is likely to occur again.

The man who constructs a steam roller, cannot always rely on it to know its master's voice.

It will be hard for Baltimore to produce spectacular features that will equal the demonstration at Chicago.

It is wrong to reproach patriots with a lack of dignity at a time like this. No man can be thoroughly dignified with a tired throat and a wilted collar.

The understanding is that Mr. Geo. W. Perkins went to Chicago, not because of any desire to be personally active, but because national conventions are his favorite amusement.

Instead of throwing the Lorimer bomb into the ditch, the reverend senators are safely located behind the nearest trees, watching the use of size.

Cucumbers have been proven to contain nine-tenths water, yet the pure foot enthusiasts are doing nothing toward prohibiting their sale to an innocent and unsuspecting public.

Dr. Sargent, the physical training expert of Harvard, advises young women to knead bread, as that practical exercise is the best known for acquiring a fine shaped forearm.

Oh You Mr. Johnson.

The Portsmouth delegates to the convention made a spectacular sprint for the 3.10 train yesterday. They stayed to vote on the initiative and referendum and had about five minutes to get the train. Delegate Johnson who weighs 350 pounds was well in the lead and finished "fresh as a daisy."—Concord Patriot.

While this city is represented in the convention by several heavy-weights, we fail to recall any one by the name of Johnson.

CURRENT OPINION

BY DR. CHARLES FLEISCHER, Leader Boston Sunday Commons.

WATCHING OUR IMMIGRATION

WHETHER Taft or Roosevelt is selected, or a Republican or Democrat is elected—however the question of the presidency of the United States may, for the moment, be met, is a matter of relative unimportance for the country as compared with proper handling of the problem of immigration.

Personally I do not believe in a restriction much beyond the present exclusion of the criminal, the diseased and the pauper, all of whom represent a social burden which should be borne by the native lands. And I think that the proposal to exclude those who cannot read or write is almost as "clever" and searching a test of fitness for future American citizenship as the measure of the immigrant's nose, or the study of the color of his hair.

On the other hand, I believe we should firmly set ourselves against the wholesale admission of hordes of immigrants who are not promising material for ready assimilation but are useful mainly for ruthless exploitation by the relative, by recent immigrants who have become so largely the political rulers of our land.

The great masses of recent arrivals, which make foreign groups in our various big cities, should also receive immediate and continuous attention. I believe in applying a system of compulsory education for even the adults of these groups. By all means the standards and tests of qualifications for citizenship should be set so high that Americanization would become a desirable attainment.

Also, I believe that some restriction should be put—in the way of residence and opportunity—on those who have no intention of becoming citizens of our land.

In a word, I maintain that we must face, seriously and intelligently, the whole complex problem of the newer Americans, so that the country shall not be made to suffer political dyspepsia and economic indigestion as the result of these great and continuous additions to our population, but that each type of newcomer may bring to us his share of good and blessing to our common land.

Yard Officers Come Back

The second baseball game of the season between the yard officers and those of the North Carolina was on at the prison grounds Thursday afternoon, when the yard men came back with a score of 16 to 8. Chief Boatswain Anderson, backstop for the ship men, was there with the goods and should be in faster company on the diamond. He could not save his team after Pay Clerk McMullen of the yard nine began such awful wallops with the stick. The games stand one and one—Look out for the rubber.

CASTING THE GLOOM

It looked as though 'twas going to be a rather gloomy day for me; And when at noon I started out, I'm almost sure I was a poet. I had no reason to be sad But still, somehow, I wasn't glad. My head was down, my pace was slow, Then someone shouted out: "Hello!"

A friend came up and slapped my back And yanked me off the gloomy track; He grabbed my hand, and then began To talk as only good folks can; He walked a mile or two with me, Then, somehow, I began to see, That all the clouds that loomed so gray Had suddenly been blown away.

It seemed to me wher'er I went, I found new cause to be content; The burdens I had thought so great Seemed to be quickly losing weight; And everywhere I turned it seemed, Some friendly face upon me beamed; Someone with cheerful words to say, Bobbed up to chase the gloom away.

Where I expected discontent I reaped but sweet encouragement; The letters on my desk were fraught With messages of kindly thought, And long before the stroke of noon I started in to hum a tune; And when at night I went to bed, "I've had a glorious day," I said. —Detroit Free Press.

CLASS 1912 POEM

The dreamy wave of summer
Lulls our weary minds to rest,
And fills our souls with quiet,
The quiet that is best.

And the gently swinging branches
Have an ever-pleasant rhythm
Of the sweetly scented trees,
That is carried by the breeze.

All the winding paths we tread
Are filled with rest and ease
And the quiet calm of Nature
Spreads far o'er the seas.

TAX AMENDMENT DEBATED FOR HOURS

Many Different Opinions on Question in Constitutional Convention

--Boynton Has a Bill.

CONCORD, June 13.—The tax question has been debated in the constitutional convention today, six different resolutions bearing upon that subject being considered together. The debate lasted all day and no decision was reached, as opinions seem widely varied. The three principal questions involved were embodied in a resolution which was prepared by President Jones and offered just before noon adjournment in committee of the whole. It was as follows:

Resolved, that it is the sense of this committee that an amendment to the constitution of New Hampshire be submitted to the people which will give to the legislature the right to classify intangibles and growing wood and timber for purposes of taxation and to make reasonable exemptions on the same, and further to impose a tax on incomes and intangible property.

These three subjects are included in the six bills considered. It was Mr. Jones' idea that through his resolution the sentiment of the convention could be secured and then he would have all six bills referred to the proper standing committee, which would draw up an amendment putting the question in proper form for submission to the people. His resolution is under debate.

Judge Mitchell opened the debate this morning with a 30 minute talk on his amendment to the Fellows resolution. Where Mr. Fellows would classify "Wild and Forest Land" Judge Mitchell would word it "growing wood and timber." He feared that the other wording was too restrictive and would defeat the measure. The word growing would indicate the purpose. In New Hampshire there are but 527,000 acres in the primitive states, while there are 1,620,000 acres up on which wood and timber is growing.

Judge Mitchell also changed the wording of the resolution relating to money of interest to make it more comprehensive. He discussed the matter at some length to show the necessity of making this part clear to all. Taxes are the life blood of the government he said, and without taxes the government cannot exist, and without government life is not secure.

He declared that the owner of growing timber could not afford to pay taxes on an equal basis with the owner of living, acting, yielding property. They would not do so, but would strip away the timber and escape the burden of taxation. He gave equally strong reasons for classifying intangibles, showing how owners of taxable bonds would be compelled to sell them and invest in non-taxable securities if taxed as at present. Two years ago, he said, there were taxable bonds to a value of 100,000,000 in New Hampshire, but the tax burden had decreased this amount one-half. He would not advise a tax upon stocks, as that would be double taxation. A farmer

Pays a Tax Upon His Farm, but not upon the deed for it. Such intangibles could be reached through an income tax.

Lyford of Concord declared that the taxation of bonds only resulted in driving them out of the state or in making a commonwealth of perjurers. It states where intangibles were classified there was a tremendous increase in the number voluntarily reported. In Maryland, for instance, when the tax on intangibles was placed at four mills the amount reported for taxation jumped from $6,000,000 to $160,000,000.

Boynton of Portsmouth spoke in support of his own bill for an income tax on intangibles. He opposed an income tax on salaries and profits in business.

At this point the members of the committee drifted into a long and fruitless discussion of parliamentary procedure, in which various plans were proposed for taking up the question. Occasionally a member would say a word on the subject under debate, but most of the talk was regarding procedure. This led to the resolution by President Jones. Several of the members wanted the question divided. Among these was Broderick of Manchester, who remarked that some might want to vote for the income tax but would be opposed to the classification of property. Lyford replied that any one of Mr. Broderick's mind might move to strike out the offending clauses when reported in convention.

Stevens of Landaff was given an opportunity before recess to explain his own bill and talked about 15 minutes in concise and forceful fashion. He would strike out the word "proportional" in Article 5, part 2, of the constitution, and in place of article 6 would simply provide that the expenses of government

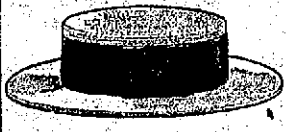

Be Raised by Reasonable Taxation. This would say nothing about classification of property but would give the legislature broad powers in fixing taxes as the time and public sentiment might demand. He said that the express companies are taxed on a basis of two per cent on their gross revenue, which is fair, as the company has very little actual property but a large revenue. On the other hand the railroad is taxed on its property. In the last tax contest the Boston & Maine expended $75,000 sending experts to every town to get at the equal rate. At the same time the state had to send out experts to meet the railroad claims. This trouble would be repeated every year. He believed it far better to follow the express system and tax the railroads on their gross revenue, which any school boy could figure.

On motion of Hollis of Concord this morning all measures relating to changes in the method of electing county officers were taken from the committee of the whole and referred to the standing committee on amendments, which will conduct public hearings on the subject.

FIND THAT CALIFORNIA SAW DISTRESS SIGNALS

LONDON, June 13.—The British court of inquiry into the Titanic disaster will find that the steamship Californian defaulted from her duty. Just as did Senator William Alden Smith's committee of inquiry. In the course of today's hearing, Lord Mersey, the president, stated without qualification:

"I have no doubt that the Californian did see distress signals, that they were signals from the Titanic, and that the Californian ought to have made efforts to get to the Titanic."

Sir Alfred Chalmers, professional adviser of the marine department of the Board of Trade, explained to the court the reason why the Board of Trade's lifeboat scale had not been altered for 13 years. It was because "traveling across the Atlantic is the safest mode of traveling in the world." The disaster had not caused him to think changes were necessary. No lessons were to be learned from the catastrophe, because it was an extraordinary occurrence.

Allen C. Edwards, the attorney for the Dockers' Union, interjected that the Board of Trade seemed to be an extraordinary department for guarding against ordinary occurrences.

BURNS HAS A FIGHT FOR REWARD

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 13.—The respective claims of Detective William J. Burns and Samuel L. Browne, chief of detectives attached to the district attorney's office, to $50,000 reward money offered for the arrest and conviction of the dynamiters who blew up the Times Building, are expected to become involved to a considerable extent in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery.

Both men have employed attorneys to look after the collection of the rewards. While on the witness stand yesterday Browne admitted, under cross-examination by Chief Counsel Earl Rogers, for the defense, that he was the chief factor in uncovering the perpetrators of the Times explosion.

Three of the seven detectives who were "planted" at the corner of 2d and Los Angeles streets on the morning of Nov. 28, 1911, when C. E. Witte, acting for Bert H. Franklin, who was alleged to have been the agent of Clarence S. Darrow, was said to have passed the alleged bribe money into the hands of George N. Lockwood, testified yesterday, and others were expected to be called at today's session.

Oscar K. Lord, who is employed in this city, is passing a week in South Berwick.

STROSNIDER IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

BOSTON, June 13. James Strosnider was found not guilty by a jury in the Superior Criminal Court today in a charge of conspiracy to steal $7500 from Samuel Butler, an Atlantic avenue junk dealer.

Judge Chase was profoundly surprised when the verdict was announced and immediately dismissed the jury for the term, saying the verdict showed they could not try a case on the evidence produced in court.

The defense had put in no testimony, resting at the close of the Government's case.

Judge Chase said he had no confidence in the ability of the jurors to evidence produced in court. He did hear evidence and decide cases on not wish to have them sit in any further cases at this sitting of the court. He then discharged them for the term.

The jurors are John W. Anderson, J. Bauman, Jeremiah J. Cronin, Jeremiah Curran, John B. Dolan, Jr., Jas. H. Foye, Arthur W. Ince, Wendell Irving, Daniel W. MacColl, Robert D. Morrison, James J. Wallace and John Wilkinson.

Butler testified that he was told by an old-time friend named Crane that the defendant had a lot of copper to sell and he was introduced to the latter at the Hotel Somerset in July. Strosnider assumed the name of Sterling and represented himself as manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Butler went to Providence and met the defendant, he testified, at a hotel. On July 18 he took $7500 with him to buy the copper, and was invited to 41 Snow street, Providence, by Crane and one Kane, in a room in the house, he claims, a man named Jones took the $7500 from him. He said he saw the defendant there, too.

Butler denied that he made a bet on a horse race and lost the money.

The rooms at the house in Snow street had been hired by the defendant, according to the evidence of the bandits. They were fitted up as a rooming house. Telephone and telegraph instruments were found there, but there was no connection by wires with the telegraph or telephone companies.

Strosnider did not take the stand. The case went to the jury on the question of whether the defendant conspired to steal the money from Butler.

Counsel for the defendant, William Scharton, contended that Butler lost the money in betting on a horse race and that the defendant should be acquitted.

WINDOW SMASHING BY SUFFRAGETTES

DUBLIN, June 13.—A campaign of window smashing was opened today by the Irish suffragettes, who tried to demolish the deeds of their English sisters, but came into vigorous conflict with the authorities. After the women had made an energetic attack on most of the public buildings, eight of them, who were armed with bags of stones, were arrested and are to be brought up before the police-magistrate.

The women before the police came on the scene had succeeded in shattering 42 windows of the Custom-house, and Post office, the Land Commission and the police and military barracks.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP

Mr. Lindsay Morison believes that in offering a presentation of "The Rosary" to his patrons next week, he will be satisfying a general desire to see this remarkable play produced by a stock company. Bostonians are already familiar with the story of "The Rosary," for it has engaged a big run at one of the first class houses of the Hub, but this will be the first time it has ever been produced here in stock. Mr. Morison seems to have a strong penchant for being the first to produce a play in stock, although this penchant has often meant an enormous outlay in royalties.

"The Rosary" is a piece which appeals equally to all denominations, for it possesses a love story that is full of human interest. The characters are true to life, in fact their prototypes may be found in every city and town of the country. Wonderful success has attended the production of the play at one time there being six companies playing it simultaneously.

Mr. Morison is going to have built a special scenic equipment for the piece, and intends to leave out no detail that characterized the original. The entire strength of his company will be used in the portrayal, including Howell Humes, Miss Anna Cleveland, Mary Sanders, Mrs. George A. Hubbard, Rose Morison, Weyley Birch, Frances Woodbury, H. Dudley Hawley, and all the other favorites.

The production of the play will be under the direction of James R. Pitman, the dean of American stage directors who intends to spare no effort in making it one of the best ever seen by a stock company.

TWO SISTERS ARE CHARGED WITH EXTORTION.

Claimed They Are Tools of Gang of Blackmailers.

LEWISTON, June 13.—Mary Gerkins and Anna Gerkins, sisters and Lithuanians, claiming to be 18 and 19, respectively, were arrested in this city yesterday, charged with attempting to extort $2000 from Dr. W. J. Scannell, a local physician at Poland Springs.

The arrests were made by G. C. Packard of Boston and Maxine Deaulieu of this city, detectives working on the case about a week.

On Tuesday of last week Dr. Scannell received a letter threatening him to place $2000 in Riverside cemetery or forfeit his life. He was directed to place the money in a tin can and bury it near the monument of Capt. Daniel Holland, by Tuesday, June 11. The letter was signed "The Black Hand."

Dr. Scannell at once consulted Hon. William B. Skelton, and the services of Detective Packard were obtained. On Friday Mr. Skelton and Mr. Packard went to Portland and told the case before the United States officials for direction under the laws governing fraudulent use of the mails.

Yesterday, the last day named in the letter, Dr. Scannell drew a check for $2000, on one of the Lewiston savings banks which has no checking department and where he had no account, and buried the check at the designated point. Then Detective Deaulieu or Mr. Packard kept watch of the spot until yesterday forenoon.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the detectives saw two girls enter the cemetery and walking up to the designated place dug up the box Dr. Scannell had buried there, they claim. The girls were arrested after they had opened the box, it is alleged, and one of them had taken out the check and put it in her pocket. They were taken to Auburn and delivered over to City Marshal Rowe of that city.

Yesterday afternoon United States Deputy Marshal Stevens of Portland came to Lewiston and took the girls back with him, where they will be kept in custody of the United States officials.

Before they left the city they were identified by night-clerk Thomas E. O'Brien of the Lewiston post office as having mailed a letter to Dr. Scannell on the night of June 3. He remembered them he says because they asked him when the letter would be delivered.

The two girls have been living in Lewiston about a month. They have lived here previously however. Their home in Lewiston is on Knox street. They came here from Baltimore where they lived at 145 Packard street.

They speak English readily and look much older than they claim their ages to be. They claim to have been born in Russia.

They appeared entirely unconcerned over their arrest. It is alleged they are tools of a gang of blackmailers.

NITROGEN EXTRACTED FROM THE AIR.

A Large Plant for the Manufacture of Fertilizers Promised as a Result of a Great Triumph of Science.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 13.—For the first time in the history of the United States the atmosphere was successfully compelled to yield up its free nitrogen under the tension of high voltage electric current at the new plant of the Southern Electro-Chemical Company on the Catawba River, in a twenty-four-hour test ending this morning, and it is now expected that a great plant will be added to the 4000 horse-power outfit, just set, to turn out commercial fertilizers made from free nitrogen of the air, the product being nitrate of lime. The process was secured by the Southern Power Company interests and others from Dr. Albert Paulding of Germany and will afford a profitable use for extra current, especially at night. The test is considered one of the greatest triumphs of science in the South.

CASTLE OF ST. ANGELO NOTED

Known as Tomb of Hadrian—Scene of Torture of Beatrice Cenci.

Rome.—Nearly everyone is familiar with the famous head called "Beatrice Cenci," said to be by Guido Reni, and with the story of that ill-fated family as it is presented in Shelley's play. The beauty and virtue of Beatrice have become a popular tradition; but we are now told by certain iconologists that the famous painting is not of her, that it is not by Guido Reni, and that the lady was neither beautiful nor virtuous. The poor tradition has not a leg left to stand on, but the fact does not spoil the pleasure of readers in Shelley's drama, nor of sightseers in viewing the room in which the unfortunate Beatrice is said to have been tortured. That room is in the Castle of St. Angelo, otherwise known as the tomb of Hadrian, in Rome. This famous mausoleum, one of the oldest landmarks of the Eternal City, has been greatly changed since its erection more than seventeen centuries ago. The original structure is almost hidden by fortifications that have been built around it; the cone of earth which once crowned the top, planted with evergreens, has given place to a gilt angel sheathing a sword; and the interior has been stripped not only of works of art that adorned it, but of much of the very material used in its construction, that material having been utilized for other buildings.

Castle of St. Angelo.

In 1500 the tomb was connected with the Vatican by a subterranean passage. A photograph of the castle of St. Angelo, as it is now called, showing also the Tiber, the bridge that gives approach to the tomb, and the dome of St. Peter's in the background, illustrates this article. St. Peter's the largest Christian place of worship in the world, and the Mecca of pious pilgrims from all over the globe, has also undergone various transformations since the early days when it succeeded an old basilica located on the same spot. It was built at first on the plan of a Greek cross, which was changed later to a Latin cross and shifted between these two forms twice more before being left in its present form. It is not seen to full advantage at close range, on account of its great dimensions; but the picture accompanying this article gives an excellent effect of the stately and impressive dome.

Curious People Found to Be Industrious and Intelligent—Expedition to Visit Them.

London.—Fresh and interesting information regarding the habits and conditions of life of a curious pigmy race will be sought by the new expedition to Dutch New Guinea, which is now being planned in London. This strange race of people were first seen by white men when the recent expedition under Capt. C. G. Rawling penetrated into the heart of the island. Rawling's expedition comprised six Englishmen and was sent out by the British Ornithologists' union. Their objective was a long range of snowy mountains, called the Nassau range, but between them and it lay 60 miles of absolutely unexplored country and of the most difficult kind to negotiate. Dense forest covered most of it, intersected with rivers which for one half of the year were torrents and the other half nearly dried up river beds.

SEEK NEW LIGHT ON PIGMIES

The pigmies were first discovered near the Kapare river, one of the immense streams which, rising in the Nassau mountains, make their way down to the sea. The Japanese soldiers who accompanied Rawling as bearers spied a couple of the little pigmies one day in the hills. The pigmies bolted at once, and an exciting chase took place, which ended in their being captured, and two days later more were surprised and surrounded. They proved to be sturdy men, averaging about four feet, eight inches high, and much better developed than the tribes encountered in the plains. They were also industrious, and decidedly more intelligent. They had neatly constructed huts, and after some time it was discovered that they had words in their language to denote numbers up to ten, words entirely lacking from the language of the plainsmen. Although the most strenuous search was made, only solitary huts could be found. Strangely enough, no children and only one woman, who was being escorted to her new home from her wedding, were seen.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS HOLD CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Class Prophecy Read by Mrs. Marjorie Grant and Will by Miss Marion Moulton

The High school seniors held their class day exercises at the High school this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The exercises consisted of the planting of the ivy by President Bailey Emery, assisted by the members of the class; reading of the class prophecy by Miss Marjorie Grant; class history; class oration; class will by Miss Marion Moulton.

Following the exercises the members of the class enjoyed light refreshments. The class prophecy by Miss Grant was as follows:

Prophecy of 1912.

It is fifty years ago today since the famous class of 1912 graduated, and as I look back over these years which have passed so swiftly, I am wondering that all my friends and class-mates are doing. I have kept close track of them, but few, but in my diary there is an entire chapter devoted to the activities of my school friends, written a decade after our commencement. If you care to listen, I will tell you what I wrote June 20th, 1922:

Can it be possible that it is 10 long years since we left our Alma Mater? The class of 1912 has divided and broken up, and we are all doing things we never dreamed of doing. For instance, I am a cross, crabled, old pedagogue, the terror of the small boy, and the ogre of the school room, but I never expected to be.

My old friend, Constance Noyes, is a ballet dancer, and she tells me she is billed to tour through Europe next season.

Camilla Collins has become a dressmaker, and many and stylish are the dresses she turns out.

Florence Day and Bessie Cottle are Red Cross nurses and very charming ones at that, I hear.

They tell me that Roberta Pickering is a professional hair dresser, and a beautician in Danvers, and that Cecily's most devoted patient is Donald Ferguson.

Gladys Furber and Teresa Coffey are speedy stenographers, and are rising rapidly in their profession.

Elsie Hodgdon is much interested in charity, and works night and day in behalf of the needy.

Margaret Marston, the class wonder, is the Dean of Wellesley and has most of the alphabet attached to her name.

Margaret Gardner and Emma Smart are matrons of the Children's Home, and I hear they are very popular with the young folks.

Esther Brackett is teaching French, and they say her accent is perfect. She has studied in Paris for two years.

Frances Bailey and Agnes McCarthy have also become "school mams" and they have learned the early youth they used to increase. The sorrows of the teacher which in their "Evelyn Badger" is continuing with her music, and hopes to study abroad soon.

Helen McIntyre and Lizzie Whalley are in India, at present, doing missionary work that deserves great praise.

Mildred Grove is private secretary to a millionaire ranchman out west, and they say—but then Mildred always flashed that alluring, dazzling glance on all the lads.

Frances Grace has painted many pictures of note, and she dreams of exhibiting in the Salon this year.

Dorothy Odell and Anna Seavey are suffrage lecturers. They have become allied with Mrs. Parkhurst and winnow breaking is a mania with them.

Teaching seems to have been the popular vocation of the class, for Catherine Conlon (who teaches Latin and German exclusively), Anna Byrne, Irene Johnson and Marion Moulton have joined the force. My! but don't those poor kids have to toe the mark! Mildred Mahoney is making a reputation as a musician, but she has never composed anything quite equal to the class ode.

Eleanor Wentworth, alias "Cutie" is an English tutor in Boston, and a fond of cats as ever.

Emma Hartford is teacher of etiquette in a private school, and she teaches her pupils that to sit on the drawing room tables is an unpardonable sin.

Bailey Emery, our distinguished class president, has become famous as a lawyer. He always makes it a point to assure the jury of what he thinks, personally, and expresses the hope that their minds may be providentially guided in the same channel of thought.

Fred Folsom and James Rowe are renowned as physicians, but most of their patients seem to have rather hard luck, not that that reflects on Fred and James, though.

John Cullinan is an essayist of some reputation. We all knew he would be, after listening to the stirring themes of his youth. John's views on the superiority of woman to man have undergone a material change in the past few years. It's the same old story.

Russell Leavitt has been elected to fill the office of Marshal. With ruthless hand, he extracts $6.90 and costs from every lad who speeds on the sidewalk with his bicycle.

Merton Davidson is a noted science professor, and I hear he even equals his old instructor.

James McCarthy is a great pugilist and he has eliminated Jack Johnson from the lime-light. Charles Dame is his business manager.

Phillip White and Ralph Eaton the chums of olden days, have chosen widely different occupations. Ralph is an energetic country parson, while Philip is a brave lieutenant who insists upon being quartered at Kittery navy yard. The chances for long hikes there are splendid.

Ralph Brackett has just bought out a well known ice company, and he is expected to become a business man of power.

Howard Proctor is a prosperous jeweler and has succeeded his old employer, while Dennis Corey has taken up chemistry as a life study, and is pursuing it with great interest.

Chester Hersey is president of the Limburger club, a popular society of the city, and he harangues the members often, in a most impressive manner.

Dick Call has become a celebrity as a mathematician, and it is whispered that he has discovered the fourth dimension.

John Hett is a pompous, influential citizen of a small New Hampshire town, and is lovingly called "Squire" by his loyal subjects.

John Parsons has become a political orator, and his rousing speeches almost equal those of Teddy Roosevelt.

Joseph Frisbee is president of the House of Representatives, and what Joseph says, goes.

Leslie Leavitt is doing a rushing business, writing love letters for bashful young people. We always thought something would come of that notorious practice, Leslie, which formed the subject of your theses.

Joseph Quinn is still cheerfully plugging holes in the switchboard. He expects to be manager in a few years.

Contrary to all expectations, Edgar Crossman has become an oculist, and even now, makes an especial study of blue eyes with dark tringy lashes. Bernard Hennessey is star snort stop on the Red Sox team and they say to is a wonder.

Lewis Soule and Joseph Sussman are partners in a confectionery store, and they invite all their classmates to partake of their dainties at the owners' expense, provided we don't take more than five cents worth.

Chester Conlon has become a real sport. I hear that he is a first class wad burner in his new racer, and that the police have given up hopes of ever catching him.

Frank Hogan and Archie Craig are running a gentleman's clothing store. "We aim to please" is their motto. Carl Young is a very successful wireless operator while Clyde Robinson carries on a splendid business in Chicago as an apothecary.

And last, but by no means least, is Donald Ferguson. He is principal of a popular girls' seminary and I hear he is doing excellent work. May be so, but Donald's hair is turning gray.

And thus we are, long years after our graduation from happy school life. May the class of 1912 live on forever, and do justice to the teachings of its youth.

By MARJORY GRANT.
